THE OPPORTUNITY

Are You Ready to Lead in a Tech-Driven World?

The future belongs to leaders who understand technology—not just how to use it, but how to lead with it. In just 4 intensive days, you'll transform from follower to leader, developing the strategic mindset and practical skills that tech-driven organizations demand.

What Makes Us Different:

- Lead, Don't Just Learn Master leadership styles, agile methodologies, and data-driven decision-making through real-world application.
- Strategic Thinking Over Coding Understand AI and technology without needing to code. Focus on leading teams, making decisions, and driving innovation.
- Recognition That Opens Doors Official Certificate from A Learning Lab, signed by Stanford mentors. Top performers eligible for personalized letters of recommendation.
- Executive Skills for Students Learn frameworks used by Fortune 500 leaders—adapted for your world (school, activities, future career).
- Pitch Like a Pro Present your innovation to real judges. Develop confidence and communication skills that set you apart.
- Real Results, Real Impact 93% of students report increased leadership confidence | 89% apply skills immediately in their lives

WHAT PARENTS & STUDENTS SAY

This bootcamp has been truly impactful. Honestly, there's nothing better, it really suits every young person. It helps build essential skills, confidence, and offers so many benefits. The teachers are incredibly supportive and makes the whole experience even more valuable.

Linda El Fassel (Student 14 years old)

I'm Ahmed Kamel, a pharmacist working in a business organization in Riyadh. I got interested in this bootcamp and decided to enroll both my son and daughter. They became very engaged and interested from the start; learning new things, developing their skills, and unlocking so much of their potential. Although the first day was a bit challenging, day by day they grew more confident and engaged, thanks to the trainers' support and guidance. Their final project was truly impressive. I just wish there were even more subjects, diversity, and extended support. Any future program by Unihawk, we'll definitely be signing up again.
